The Stand Alone Legacy Pledge

Following the announcement of the closure of Stand Alone, The University of Sheffield will continue our support for estranged students and therefore commit to the Stand Alone Legacy Pledge. We are passionate about inspiring people to achieve their potential. We have a long history of supporting those from disadvantaged backgrounds to achieve success in applying to university and throughout their studies with us. We continue to work in partnership across the Sheffield City Region, with fellow universities, colleges, and local authorities to improve access and support estranged students.

Across the key areas of finance, accommodation, mental health and access we pledge to continue to develop and enhance the specific support as previously set out in our Stand Alone Pledge and communicated in our Care Experienced and Estranged Student Hub:

Table with 4 columns: Finance, Accommodation, Mental Health, Access. Each column contains a detailed description of support services provided to estranged students in that area.

			consideration and a contextual offer, they also have access to a wider range of support, including a designated point of contact, one-to-one mentoring at the point of transition to uni, an IT & Equipment bursary and an introduction to the Student Experience Diversity & Inclusion team.
